SCHOLARS AT ALLIANCE DR. OLGA MOHAN HIGH SCHOOL TO HOLD MEDIA AVAILABILITY BEFORE TRIP TO SOUTH KOREA TO PRESENT ON NUCLEAR DISARMAMENT

Students at high-performing public charter school to visit South Korea ahead of visit from President Trump, to speak on how to engage, empower, and inform the next generation of nuclear workforce experts. Alliance Mohan students are the only cohorts at the conference to represent the United States.

EVENT DATE: May 23, 2018 (LOS ANGELES) – Students from Alliance Dr. Olga Mohan High School, one of US News & World Reports Top High Schools in the nation and a 2018 National Blue Ribbon School will travel to South Korea from May 27, to June 1, 2018 to participate in a conference sponsored by the International Atomic Energy Agency on the need for nuclear disarmament and to inform the next generation of nuclear workforce. Many of these students have worked on this issue for years and will be the only cohort at the conference from the United States.

Ahead of the trip, the students will practice their presentation in a media availability at the school and take questions from members of the media. The trip comes as President Trump prepares his own visit to the Korean peninsula on the same issue.

WHEN: Wednesday, May 23, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
WHERE: Alliance Dr. Olga Mohan High School, 644 W 17th St, Los Angeles, CA 90015
RSVP: nbenoit@laalliance.org to be placed on the school's guest list
